

Another Market Meltdown is Coming. Will your Portfolio be Ready?

Dear Fellow Investor,

Investing in the market today is scary... this nation's largest banks require bailouts... investment houses going bankrupt... mortgage foreclosure rates rising ever higher.

Not to mention the potentially disastrous effects of the massive stimulus spending and mountains of government debt.

Now we hear that economists are predicting we are in the middle of a "double dip" recession. One where our current recovery will be short and followed by a second market dip where stock prices will fall faster and further than the first.

Every one of your hard earned dollars is in jeopardy.

Will your investment advisor get you out of the market before the next crash? Did he call you to warn you in time for the first dip last year? Did he call you at the bottom last March to tell you of the recovery we are now experiencing? Does he bother to call you at all?

Well, if he's anything like my broker, it seems he only calls me when its time to make his payment on his Porsche. And the recommendations he's given me seldom pan out. He's obviously just selling the stock of the week for a deal his investment house has worked out with one of its clients.

But what if there was a system that could accurately predict the future direction of the stock market? A proven system that would take the fear out of investing. A system that would allow you to kiss your broker and his worthless stock tips goodbye.

Imagine how your retirement nest egg would grow if you had this insight!

Well now you can. Let me introduce you to a proven and amazingly accurate forecasting system that was nearly lost to time but has been rediscovered and updated.

Elliott Wave Theory

In the 1930s, Ralph Elliott, an accountant by profession, studied over 75 years of stock price movements and observed that certain patterns repeat themselves. Elliott found that financial markets will actually trace out a recognizable pattern, shown below, once you learn what to look for.

He went on to prove his discovery by making astonishingly accurate stock market forecasts. Elliott called his discovery "The Elliott Wave Principle".

The implications of this discovery were huge. Elliott had identified the force that drives the financial markets. However after his death in 1948, Elliott's work remained largely forgotten for decades. Known and used by only a select few.

Then in 1976, Robert Prechter, Jr. discovered the complete body of R.N. Elliott's work in the New York Library!

Mr. Prechter resurrected the Elliott Wave Theory from near obscurity when he and A.J. Frost published Elliott Wave Principle in 1978. The book quickly became a Wall Street bestseller.

< Johnson box: <insert photo R. Prechter> Robert Prechter, Chartered Market Technician, is the founder and CEO of Elliott Wave International, author of Wall Street best-sellers Conquer the Crash and Elliott Wave Principle and editor of The Elliott Wave Theorist monthly market letter since 1979. Mr. Prechter has won numerous awards for market timing, including the United States Trading Championship, and in 1989 was awarded the "Guru of the Decade" title by Financial News Network (now CNBC). He has been named "one of the premier timers in stock market history" by Timer Digest, "the champion market forecaster" by Fortune magazine, "the world leader in Elliott Wave interpretation" by The Securities Institute, and "the nation's foremost proponent of the Elliott Wave method of forecasting" by The New York Times..>

Applying Elliott Wave patterns to your investments is quite simple. You use the patterns described in the Elliott Wave Principle to identify where in the cycle a particular stock is at any moment in time, as shown in the example below. Once you know where the stock is in the cycle, you can literally and accurately predict the future movements of the stock.

Real World Results

In Elliott Wave Principle, Prechter and Frost's forecast accurately predicted a roaring bull market in the 1980s and the following record bear market.

In 1984 Prechter entered the U.S. Trading Championship competition. He traded options using Elliott Wave analysis against the best traders in the country. Prechter won first place and set an all time record with amazing 444% gain four months.

<Side bar: 444% gain in four months is a fully documented, monitored account.>

More recently Prechter has turned his attention to the precious metals markets. Once again the system is right on target. Elliot Wave Analysis has correctly forecast nearly every major turn and trend for gold and silver prices for 22 years.
